Hooker—The Indian War on the Plains.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, October 20, 1868.

THREATENED INSURRECTION IN WEST VIRGINIA.

A party of ex-rebels, at Phillippi, West Virginia, threaten an insurrection there at the coming election, and Gen. Schofield has sent troops there to suppress any outbreak.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

Mr. Seward has received no information concerning any movement in England relative to the settlement of the Alabama claims, and he does not think that Minister Reverdy Johnson has taken any steps in the matter.

EX-REBEL LAWYERS AND THE SUPREME COURT.

All ex-rebel lawyers who renounce the doctrine of State Rights, will be admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of this District next month. The test oath is to be abolished.

PERSONAL.

Judge Kelly has gone to Tennessee to make speeches for Grant. Secretary Seward has gone to New York to consult about the Darien International Canal.

APPOINTMENTS.

The following revenue appointments were made to-day: Storekeepers—James Billings, Third district, Ohio; G. W. Downey, Nevada; F. H Crawford, Oregon; Jno. E. Labarory, Ninth district, Ohio; George W. Perry, Second district, Wisconsin; H. Black, Fifth district, Kentucky; A. G. Redway and Charles D. Vagin, Idaho. Gaugers—Samuel C. Brannin, George Caperon and C. C. Gibbitt, Second district, Wisconsin; James Darst and John A. Tuttle, Third district, Illinois; Henry Weithoff, First district, Ohio; C. D. Wall, Elevonth district, Ohio; George D. Smith, First district, Illinois.

MILITARY MATTERS.

The headquarters, 5th United States Artillery have been transferred from Richmond to Fort Jefferson, Florida.

Brevet Brigadier General Burton, its Colonel, is relieved from command of his regiment and ordered to report for duty to General McDowell, commanding the Department of the East.

DISTURBANCE AT A TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.

A torchlight procession paraded to-night in honor of the recent Republican triumphs. Several disturbances occurred along the line of march, in which twenty members of the police were severely beaten in endeavoring to preserve order. The disorderly persons were negroes, separate from the procession, and the cause of the difficulties was an attempt to demolish the fruit stands along Penna. avenue, where the parade was in progress. Officer Roth was struck several times with a club, near the Treasury Department, while attempting to arrest one of the disorderly parties. Another officer of the police was severely beaten in the First ward, while engaged in a similar duty. The reports of riotous conduct soon reached police headquarters and Major Richards was promptly on hand to prevent further disturbance. At this hour (11:30 o'clock) there are no further reports of the difficulty. The wounded officers have received medical attention and are doing well.

Quite a large number of applications have been made for the office of Brigadier General in the army, made vacant by the retirement of General Hooker. Among the applicants are several civilians, who were officers in the volunteer army during the war. The probability is that General Stoneman, now commanding the First district, will be appointed.

Very few dispatches have been received in this city relative to the Indian war on the plains. The army is known to be in pursuit of hostile tribes, but no dispatches concerning its movements have been received for two or three days.

NEBRASKA.

Republican Gains--The General Mormon Conference--Casualties--Death.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

ST. LOUIS, October 20.—Official returns now in from twenty counties give a Republican majority of nineteen hundred and fifty. The four counties yet to hear from will make a Republican majority of not less than 2,400, a Republican gain of 1,600 votes over the last Congressional election. The total vote of the State is nearly 17,000, almost double the vote of the past two years.

Late Salt Lake papers contain the proceedings of the General Mormon Conference. All Mormon dignitaries were fully represented. It was unanimously agreed that commercial intercourse with the Gentiles should be restricted to necessities. Mormons purchasing generally from the Gentiles will do so at the peril of expulsion from the Church. This measure is urged as necessary in self defence against the rapidly approaching danger from outsiders coming in with the Union Pacific Railroad. They are avowed enemies of the Mormon institutions, and commercial non-intercourse only can restrain the Mormons and encourage home manufacturers.

Ben Cutter, Surveyor General of New Mexico, and formerly Adjutant General of California, died at Santa Fe on Sunday last.

The Twenty-first Congressional District.

(Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

BLAIRSVILLE INTERSECTION, Pa, Oct. 20.—The Congressional Conference Judges of the Twenty-first District met to-day at Greensburg and split into two parties, sending two separate certificates to the Governor, one declaring John Covode elected by three hundred and twenty-five majority, and one electing H. D. Foster by forty-one majority. The grounds of dispute were in counting Dunbar, in Fayette, and Youngstown, in Westmoreland county, where it was charged by affidavits that no legal elections were held. U. H. PAINTER.

The Episcopal Convention.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, October 20, 1868.

In the Episcopal Convention, Rev. DeWolfe Howe, of Pennsylvania, reported a new Canon amending Canon 5, Title 1, by addition of the following:

SECTION 1. All examinations of candidates for Holy Orders shall consist in part of written questions and answers. The manuscripts shall be preserved in the archieves of the Diocese in which examinations are respectively held.

SEC. 2. The examination of the candidates for Priest's orders shall, unless the Bishops in any case remit the rules, be extended through parts of three days.

SEC. 3. For the conduct of examinations, at which a Bishop of the Diocese is not personally present, it shall be his duty to appoint a permanent committee for his Diocese of the different districts thereof, or if he prefer, one Presbyter as an exonerating Chaplain, who, with at least one other Presbyter appointed by the Bishop's direction, shall conduct examinations.

A long debate ensued, terminating in the adoption of the report.

The house then proceeded to select a place of holding the Convention of 1871. The first vote was—Baltimore, 12; Chicago, 8; New York, 8; Philadelphia, 5; St. Louis, 1. A second ballot resulted as follows: Baltimore, 18; Chicago, 7; New York, 5; Philadelphia, 4. Baltimore was declared to be the choice of the Convention.

On motion, it was made unanimous.

The Convention then took a recess.

After recess, four messages from the House of Bishops were received. The first was a provision to advocate the calling together of the Bishops to accept the resignation of one of their number. The second concurs in the message from the House of Delegates, relating to the amendment of Canon 11, section 6, clause 2, title 1, on Parish boundaries. The third amends article 3 of the Constitution, by the omission of the following words after the ninth line: "And in all cases the House of Bishops shall signify to the Convention their approbation of the latter, with reasons in writing within three days after the proposed act shall have been reported to them, and in failure thereof, it shall have the operation of a law." The fourth nominates Rev. Benjamin Morris Wistar, of Germantown, Pa., as Missionary Bishop to Oregon and Washington.

On motion the first and third messages were referred to the Committee on Canons. The fourth was made the special order for to-morrow.

The Committee on Canons reported against any change of Canons 13 and 14, title 1.

The matter was discussed by Rev. Dr. Stubbs, of New Jersey, who opposed it in the strongest terms, giving the power to the Bishop to coerce Presbyters to utter prayers from the lips, but not from the heart.

The report of the Committee on Canons was approved.

The Committee on Canons reported, in reference to numerous amendments proposed to the Convention on intrusion on the Tyng Canon, that they had no amendment to offer—in other words that they wish the Canon to stand as it is.

Several amendments were offered to the report, and after a long and animated discussion, the subject was sent back to the Committee to be again considered and reported.

A motion to reconsider the action of Monday in regard to the Episcopal Bishops was carried, so it will come up again for action. Adjourned.

PENNSYLVANIA PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD.

The Brazilian army entered Tebiquiray on the 1st inst., the Paraguayans having abandoned the works, leaving one cannon, considerable amount of ammunition, and food. A battery on the Paraguay river had been dismantled, the cannon having been thrown into the river. Lopez is said to have gone to Cerro Leone, a strongly fortified place below Ascension, destroying the railway. The allies were en route from Tebiquiray for Vileta, the gun boats accompanying them on the river.

Lopez is said to have about twenty thousand men, and being in the interior the allied operations will be at a disadvantage, they having lost some nine hundred oxen in transporting supplies to Tebiquiray. The Brazilian squadron had gone to Ascension, and two monitors had gone to Matlo Grosso, the latter place being abandoned by the Paraguayans.

The American gunboat "Wasp" had gone to Ascension.

A loan of $30,000,000 had been opened by the Brazilian Government.

Six men were killed and seven wounded by a falling spar of the French gunboat "Circe" in the harbor of Rio, while saluting the Italian frigate "Regina."

The elections for municipal officers in Brazil had closed, resulting in favor of the Conservatives. The American Minister had placed propositions for the extension of the cable telegraph from Barbadoes to Brazil, which will probably be accepted.

Gen. Grant is likely to act with more discrimination than the zealots of the party. The Provisional Government seeks to put Spain on a level with the most advanced powers, and hopes the friendly relations of foreign governments with Spain, while under the late oppressive regime, will be continued unbroken.

It was reported General Southerland, President of the State of Maracaibo, and a strong personal friend of ex-President Falcon, would soon give in his adhesion to the new Government and deliver over three ships of war which still remain in his possession and retire to Europe. An attempt was made to assassinate Villagers, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, but the plot failed.

The prospects of Solnave were daily improving. He had given the town of St. Marks one week to surrender the ship of war Alexandre. A petition had been sent there to assist in the siege. Agricultural Fair.

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DANVILLE, Va., October 20.—The Virginia and North Carolina Agricultural Society fair opened to-day. 7,000 persons were present. President Southerland delivered an address in which he counseled an individual business effort by every one at the South. Whoever he said shall be elected President of the United States, will so far forget party as to view with patriotic eyes his whole country and adopt a policy that will speedily place all the States of the Union on an equal footing, and he would use his power and position to restore the country to prosperity and peace.

Gov. Vance, of North Carolina, also delivered an address, in which he deprecated that Southern people should ever learn to esteem the picayune maxims of Ben Franklin above the apothegms of Bacon, to establish a Mecca of Cape Cod or Buzzard Bayor to allow the odor of Weathersfield onions to ascend from their altars of sacrifice. The demand for white labor, he said, is the beginning of immigration, which is the beginning of the end of the negro. The political privilege accorded him will only hasten his ruin by increasing his idleness and filling him with dissatisfaction toward the humble paths of labor for which he is fitted.

International Boat Race.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., October 20.—All indications are favorable for the international boat race to-morrow between the Ward brothers and the St. John's crew. The Murder of a Colored Senator.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 20.—Considerable excitement prevails among the colored population of Charleston on account of the murder of Randolph, who was well known here.

Before and After.

Before General Grant made a distinct avowal of his political sentiments the Democratic papers spoke of him as follows:

BEFORE.

A great soldier.
An example of magnanimity.
A great captain.
The stuff of which statesmen are made.
A leader of rare endowments.
The man whose valor saved the country.
The conqueror of the rebellion.
The hero of many victories.
The savior of our institutions.

AFTER

He had come out Republican they talked about him thus:

Doubtful in his policy.
Well enough but for his associations.
A prospective tool of the Radicals.
A General whose victories were too costly to be valuable.
The lucky man to whom Lee surrendered, when he ought to have surrendered to Lee.
The military blunderer.
The butcher of the national army.
The brainless tanner who aspired to military honors.
A man who needlessly sacrificed 100,000 lives in his Potomac campaign.
Noteriously a disregarder of the truth.
The willing tool of Stanton and a Radical Congress.
The sworn enemy of his country's liberties.
A poor tool in Radical hands.
Confirmed drunkard. Liar. Sot. Fool.

Another Convert.

Colonel H. A. SMALLEY, of New York, a son of Judge SMALLEY, of Vermont, a leading Democrat of that State, has written a letter to General STANNARD, in which he says that he had intended to support the Democratic nominees. He now says he is satisfied that "the interests of the country require the election of General GRANT, and in accordance with this opinion I shall support him." Colonel SMALLEY proceeds to say:

"In addition to my opinion of the superior fitness and qualifications of Gen. Grant for the Presidency in the present crisis, I am constrained to the course I have adopted by my belief that Grant will have greater power to heal the wounds inflicted during our late struggle than his opponent, if elected, and that, with as kind and generous feelings toward the South as Governor Seymour can entertain, from the great services of the man, his known benignity and firmness in which latter quality I think Governor Seymour deficient, and from the political constitution of Congress—he will accomplish more in the restoration of the South to harmonious relations with the entire country, do more to renew its commercial and financial prosperity, now almost annihilated, than can Governor Seymour by any possibility, allowing the latter every meritorious intention in the premises.

* * * Revolution and civil war are indicated more or less directly, and these I do not believe the War Democracy are willing to assist in inflicting upon the country. For one I am not—and I believe the truest and best interests of the Southern people, both of the Democratic and Republican Parties, will be subserved by the election of General Grant."

So writes a young and gallant soldier, and so feel thousands of others who will vote the same way, The ball is moving on.

THE question whether General Blair did or did not insult the Fenians by the slang term of "Finnegans," in a speech to them in 1865, is settled by a letter from Philip Coyne, who states that he was the person who corrected the General for using that phrase. Many others heard it, who stand ready to testify to the fact, but as Mr. Coyne holds a high position in the Fenian organization, and his statement is given to a Democratic paper, it will not be disputed by any one. Mr. Coyne's letter contains the following very significant and truthful sentence: "What General Blair's politics were in the past is well known; what they may be in the future, TIME ONLY CAN TELL!" It is evident that Mr. Coyne thoroughly understands the man of whom he was printed, with great show of satisfaction, by the St. Louis Dispatch. It is the hardest rap at Frank Blair we have heard for many a day.

METAPHYSICS AND THEOLOGY.

At the end of every road there stands a wall,
Not built by hands—impenetrable bare,
Behind it lies an unknown land. And all
The paths men plod tend to it, and end there.

Each man, according to his humor, paints
On that bare wall strange landscapes; dark or bright,
Peopled with forms of fiends or forms of saints;
Hells of Despair or Edens of Delight.

Then to his fellows "Tremble!" or "Rejoice!"
The limner cries, "for lo, the Land beyond!"
And ever acquiescent to his voice,
Faint echoes from that painted wall respond.

But, now and then, with sacreligious hand,
Some one wipes off those painted landscapes all,
Muttering, "O fools, and slow to understand,
Behold your bourne—the impenetrable wall!"

Whereat, an eager, angered crowd exclaims,
"Better than yon dead wall—though pale and faint—
Our faded Edens! Better fiends and flames,
By fancy painted in her coarsest paint."
—Every Saturday.

IN A recent English publication a lover propounds the following interesting interrogations to the "Idol of his Soul:"

Kiss me not, ma charmante mignone,
Draw not near ma jolie chere,
Till you tell me if your chignon
Is made up of corpse's hair.

Horrid stories now are going,
Touching lovely women's tresses;
And, egad! its worth the knowing
What it is a chap caresses.

Rachel boasts she has the knowledge
To revive the locks when spare;
Some professor of King's College
Taught her to restore the hair.

Mrs. Borradaille displayed a
Lot of reddish hair in court;
It was her own, though lawyers made a
Joke of it in wanton sport.

Yours in gloss, though superhuman,
May have been, my dearest life,
Cut from some poor Indian woman
With the cruel scalping knife.

Tresses cribbed from living carcass
Are no worst alternative;
Nurses filch, both fair and dark,
As soon as paupers cease to live.

Coiffures that outvie the raven
From the hospitals proceed;
Auburn hair and fair is shaven
From the dead—it is, indeed.

After such like revelation,
Think me not fastidious grown,
If I ask, with trepidation,
Darling, are those locks your own?

EPHEMERIS.

—Food is scarce and business dull in Russia.

—New Orleans has 28,000 registered voters.

—Berlin is excited over a private madhouse sensation.

—Small-pox of the most virulent sort now rages in Montreal.

—Ladies are flogged if they wear black or grey dresses in Poland.

—Chignons have been much used for smuggling laces and jewels in.

—The population of Berlin is 660,000, or about the same as Philadelphia.

—In some sections of Mississippi three crops have been raised this year.

—Nelaton, the surgeon, has declined the Senatorship offered by Napoleon.

—Cincinnati has had a wheelbarrow wager on the subject of Cary's election.

—The question of the abolition of capital punishment is again agitating Holland.

—12,590 lives have been lost in British coal mines during the last twelve years.

—The Franco-American telegraph cable is being put on board the Great Eastern.

—It is hinted that Helmbold's $40,000 is to be given in Buchu instead of greenbacks.

—A gentleman in Louisville has just died of a tight boot. It produced mortification.

—An Archbishop and five new bishops have just been appointed for Mexico by the Pope.

—Maggie Mitchell is not so fastidious as Edwin Booth, and is therefore playing in Buffalo.

—The Hop bubble is said to have burst in Wisconsin. The hops and their growers have gone to their bier.

—Col. Parker, of Grant's staff, has taken his young wife off to Western New York, to visit his Indian subjects.

—Oscar Benning, of Dubuque, butcher-knifed his brother to death for being too intimate with Mrs. Oscar Benning.

—Gov. Beall, who was killed by an editor out in Montana the other day, was a son-in-law of Fennimore Cooper, the novelist.

—Editors in France seem to make money sometimes. Emil de Girardin, for instance, lives in a house which cost him $100,000 to build.

—The King of Greece has given his son the title of Duke of Sparta, which title is hereafter to be that of the Grecian Crown Prince.

—Tremendous rains have caused a suspension of business and the cessation of railway travel in the neighborhood of Valperaiso.

—An exchange calls Frank Blair the Democratic Jonah. We suppose he swallowed the Democratic wail which the October elections educed.

—Punshon says in his lecture on "Daniel in Babylon," that Daniel was "no Micawber waiting for some great fortune to turn up in some improbable way."

—Braxton Bragg is going to Cincinnati, the home of vine and swine. He is not, however, going after a "little more grape," but to examine the water works.

—Some time this month Old Rye—we mean Miss Rye of England, is to bring another cargo of British loveliness, in the shape of serving girls, to Canada.

—Rumor says that 20,000 Kentuckians have purchased carpet bags and intend sojourning for a while in Indiana and Illinois for the purpose of voting in November.

—Many New England manufacturers are ready to largely increase and improve their works as soon as national affairs are more settled, which will be when Gen. Grant is elected.

—Louisa Muehlbach's daughter, who is an actress in Berlin, was hissed a few weeks ago, whereon she burst into tears which had the effect of melting the displeasure of her audience.

—E. L. Davenport is playing standard comedy in Philadelphia. Lotta is playing her usual unstandard comedy in the same place, and the Hanlons are doing their startling feats.

—An exchange says Col. Childs married the widow Graves, in Kentucky, the other day, and at the same time his son took to wife her daughter. In one case, at least, the children found early Graves.

—Mr. Snider, of Ancasta township, Canada, being up an apple tree, descended suddenly from that bad eminence, a distance of eighteen feet, to the ground—a vast and fatal thing on Snider.—N. Y. World.

—West Virginia votes on Thursday. Stevenson the Republican candidate for Governor, is an old and respected citizen of Pittsburgh, who emigrated some years ago, and is a noble specimen of the carpet-bagger.

—The Empress of the French is very much exercised about the fall of Isabella of Spain. She pities her and wants to help her. The Bonapartes helping and sympathizing with the Bourbons is a new phase in political events.

—One ordained Protestant Missionary is said to be laboring in China, for every 4,000,000 Chinese. The various Protestant Missionary Associations of the world have an estimated annual inoome of $12,000,000 only, and the amount of work done is very large.

—The grape cure is the newest thing in medicine. The Queen of Prussia is said to have completely recovered from an illness which has made her an invalid for ten years, by eating plenty of grapes. Homœopathy may hide its head for surely this is pleasanter than sweet pills.

—Wash Hamilton, a noted desperado of Philadelphia, one who has killed at least one man, and is supposed to have bitten off the ear of another, was shot on election day by a policeman and has since died. He was flourishing a pistol about in a most dangerous way and was about to attempt using it when killed.

—At the Peace Congress held recently in Berne, Bakounin, the celebrated Russian agitator, moved the adoption of the following resolution: "Resolved, That the institution of marriage shall be abolished; that the children of all women shall be educated by society in general; that religion and property be abolished." At this Congress the United States, Mexico, Italy and Spain were each represented by one man.

—The Paris Pays says that General Carl Schurz was a guerrilla chief during the American war, and commanded at the siege of Washington. Butler, it says, was execrated during the war, both in the North and South, for ordering the execution of the wives and daughters of prominent Southern Generals and political leaders. In regard to General Fremont the same paper makes the interesting assertion that the people wanted him for President early in 1864, but that Lincoln's intrigues and tyranny thwarted their wishes.

—Poor Blair! Frank is his name, and frankness is his bane. To his frank disclosures of his bloodthirsty and revolutionary intentions, more than to anything else, his party owes its present troubles, and again he has in St. Louis blurted out the secret intentions of his clique, "Grant shall never leave the White House alive." We can surely do nothing less than remember this, and if any such grave calamity as the assassination of President Grant should take place, thanks to Frank Blair, we know where to look for the conspirators.

—Slowly, but surely, the Democratic journals seize on Republican amunition and try to use it against Republicans, just as they seized on National arms and used them to aid the rebels. "Social proscription to all Radicals" has been the well-known and undeniable Southern motto; but now the New York World takes hold of this dangerous weapon, and with less sagacity than it usually displays, plants it in Philadelphia. It says, "What tears must not the angels have wept over the birth, in that same town, (Philadelphia,) of the malignant and brainless monstrosity known of men as 'Leagueism,' whereby men claiming to be gentlemen and christians, have been led to band themselves together with pledges, if not with oaths, to punish political differences of opinion with social proscription." Now, as we all know Philadelphia, and as many of us know that in all grades of society there members of both parties are constantly met, there are but two ways of accounting for this article. Either it is deliberately libellous, or the writer has mixed only with that class of persons in Philadelphia which is socially proscribed every place for social protection.

THE Crown Princess of Prussia has given ten thousand dollars to the ladies of the Berlin midnight missions. The latter discountenances the publication of reports of their labors in the newspapers, lest their charitable enterprise should be looked upon as merely sensational; and especial pains are taken to protect repentant magdalens from the intrusion of curious and inquisitive idlers. The success of this benevolent society is very great. Not less than one hundred of the unfortunate girls were rescued from infamy and furnished with good situations, or restored to their parents. No reproaches are addressed to any of the girls, but they are reminded by the ladies in the kindest possible tone of their homes and their childhood, and the horrible fate that awaits them is depicted to them. The ladies say that they found among the unfortunate girls less than a half a dozen who led a life of shame because they liked it, and most of those who refused to accept their offers, did so because they would not desert their lovers.

THE CATTLE PLAGUE.—High praise has been accorded in England to the prompt, vigorous and effectual measures adopted in this country in order to stamp out the Texan Cattle Disease. At a recent meeting of the Huntingdonshire Agricultural Society, Mr. Robert Montague, brother of the Duke of Manchester, gave a minute account of the progress of the Spanish Cattle Fever from the Western plains to the Atlantic ports, and of the laws passed in all the different States on its route. He criticised severely the folly exhibited in England in refusing to adopt the precautions which every other country had been compelled to enforce.

HAYTI.—Reports from this island state that the insurrectionists are quarrelling among themselves. Generals Dominguez, Saget, and Rebecca have each been proclaimed President by their respective troops. The towns of Petit Goave, Desalaine and Jeremie are in possession of Gen. Salnave, who is daily gaining ground.

ITALY.—The Italian Government has taken advantage of the recent fall in the price of its securities, and has purchased so large a quantity of its bonds in Paris that the frequent assertion that it is dependent on foreign capital for ordinrry expenses, has no longer a foundation in fact.

RIVER NEWS.

River news continues very scarce, and there is nothing transpiring at the landing worthy of special notice. The weather continues dark and cloudy, with indications of rain, and our steamboatmen are anxiously waiting for a rise. The stage of water, according to the marks, is about sixteen inches.

—The Nigatingale, sunk at Grand Chain, has been raised and taken to St. Louis.

—The Mary Davage was a Louisville on Sunday, en route from St. Louis to Pittsburgh.

—The Robt. E. Lee went into New Orleans last Saturday with 3,018 bales of cotton and 5,067 bags of cotton seed.

—The Leonidas was hard aground at Grassy Flats last week, but when the Kate Robinson passed up Friday night she was lying at the shore.

—The Emma No. 3 left Cincinnati for New Orleans Saturday night, drawing 4½ feet, and with a barge in tow drawing 3 feet. She also had engagements below. Pilots, J. Gray and Gus. Auttenheimer.

—The New Orleans Crescent says: "The Judge of the Sixth District Court, in the case of V. C. Dentzel, vs, J. Morgan Hall, and others, owners of steamer Iberville, decided that newspapers furnished to a steamboat constituted, under the law, a privilege upon the steamboat for supplies furnished."

—The steamer Silver Spray was sold at Cincinnati on Saturday evening by her owners, Captain W. W. Fenton and others, to Captain John Patterson and Mr. Bart Patterson, both formerly of the steamer Abeona, for $13,000; the purchasers to take the boat with the freight receipts as she lay at the wharf.

—A side-wheel boat 12 feet long, hooped over like an emigrant wagon and canopied with muslin and calico, arrived at Hastings, Minnesota, from Henderson, on the Minnesota river, on the 10th instant. In this primitive ark was a man, his wife, and three children. The father propelled the craft by working a crank, and the mother steered. In this slender craft they proposed to journey to Davenport, being too poor to take passage by steamer.

—We clip the following from the St. Louis Democrat: "We have heard of another rich pilot, the famous Major Jack Downing, who used to run between this port and New Orleans. Perhaps he is not very rich, but it is pretty well understood he has enough to live on. He is at home in Pomeroy, Ohio, assisting in the office of his father, who, we believe, is an office holder. Major Jack is one of the finest violinists in the country. He was pilot of the Fanny when she sunk, and a few minutes after the accident, was discovered in the woods with his violin performing a series of his favorite airs. He owns some shares of the 5th street horse railroad, St. Louis. While on the subject of pilots—a subject we like to dwell on—we may say that Capt. Wm. Leonard is still hale and hearty, although one of the oldest pilots living. He piloted the Helen Mar in 1832 between Nashville and New Orleans. Andy Fleming is another old one, but is as straight as a shingle, and looks as robust and vigorous as a Yorkshire farmer. He and Leonard in 1835 were pilots together on the steamer Niagara, plying between Louisville and Pittsburgh."

GOLD closed yesterday in New York at 136¼@137.

INDIANA has gone Republican by about one thousand majority.

MORE RASCALITY by the "bloated bondholders"—the New York World's assaults upon FRANK BLAIR.

NEBRASKA does even better than we hoped for. Her Republican majority swells to 2,400, and has'nt stopped yet.

WE understand the friends of THOMAS M. MARSHALL, Esq., intend presenting his name before the Legislature of Pennsylvania, this winter, as a candidate for United States Senator.

THE Xth Ohio district, electing a Democratic Representative by 717 majority over ASHLEY, the present member, gave at the same election, 706 majority for the Republican State ticket.

NEBRASKA, the child of the Far West, casts her virgin vote as a State of the Union in favor of the principles held by the Republican party. The struggle was sharp, but loyalty won a glorious victory in the end.

UNION MEN! Read "The New Rebellion" which we print elsewhere. There details, gleaned from but one day's exchanges, afford a not unjust idea of the horrible state of affairs now ruling in the late rebel States, under the inspirations of the BLAIR Democracy.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON insists that SEYMOUR and BLAIR shall not be withdrawn from the Democratic ticket. This is the last clinching proof of his dislike for those men. He mercilessly demands that they shall not escape the fullest penalties of the righteous indignation of the people.

"CONSISTENCY, thou art a jewel." The Post complains of the garbling of an editorial which originally appeared in its columns and was republished in this journal. If its charge was correct, as it is not, we should marvel at the impudence of its editors, who have never given any signs that honor or dignity enter into their ideas of journalism.

TURN OUT.—Let the demonstration tomorrow evening prove worthy the great victory we have just achieved in old Allegheny. It will, perhaps, be the final demonstration of the campaign, and every good Republican should participate in it. Let those residing along the route of procession illuminate their dwellings, and thus cheer the boys on their march.

THE WEST VIRGINIA ELECTION occurs to-morrow. Some small, and we fear inadequate, preparations have been made by the War department to prevent rebel outbreaks, which have been threatened at Philippi and other points. We shall regard it as unexpectedly fortunate if to-morrow's election shall fail to show some bloody fruits for the BLAIR Democratic platform of anarchy and civil war.

THE editorial article from the Post on the election of Gen. GRANT, published some time ago, is such a strong document in favor of the candidate of the Republicans for President, that we think it cannot be published too often in our columns. Elsewhere it will be found. Let every loyal man peruse the article, and then account, if he can, for the change which has come over the editors of our contemporary. Their ravings about GRANT, to-day, stand in strong contrast with the opinion of him they held and expressed before the people called him for the Presidency.

A WORD TO ALL HONEST MEN.

Come, Democratic friend, and let us make this whole thing unanimous. If you be anything more than a mere partizan, if you love Democratic principles, and have your country's good at heart, you cannot vote for FRANK BLAIR, and you cannot against General GRANT. You should vote for GRANT, because—we put this directly to your conscience—you cannot specify one sound, orthodox, old-time Democratic principle, of which you can feel that GRANT would be faithless to it. You cannot deny his eminent services to our common country's cause. You cannot refuse to concede to him a strong common sense, a judicious and candid moderation, a faithful love for the principles of the Constitution, an honest resolve to execute the laws as made for him by the law-making power, regardless of party and with an eye single only to the highest considerations of official duty. You already believe in your own heart that President GRANT, however and by whomever chosen, will be the next Chief Magistrate of all this people. And—we put it to you as the last consideration—you know that he will be elected, and that it would be gratifying to yourself to feel, in the coming years, that you and your Democratic friends assisted to elevate him to that high place by the unanimous acclaim of his grateful and confiding countrymen.

Nor can you vote for this man FRANK BLAIR, and go home that night to think of it, feeling sure that you will congratulate yourself upon having done all your duty. You, whom we now speak to, mean to be good citizens. Can you respect yourselves, after bestowing your suffrage upon a man whom you know to be unworthy? You have seen him, heard him; you know his past record; you have observed with secret pain how he now stands before the country, the unblushing advocate of doctrines which your own private judgment cannot and never will approve; your heart welcomed, with a bound of exultation which you hardly knew how to express, the recent intelligence that the wisest and best men of your party had moved to extort his resignation from his ticket; you felt, as they felt, that this man was like a mill-stone upon all your necks, sinking you hopelessly beyond redemption; you learn that the HAMPTONS and FORRESTS and VALLANDIGHAMS, who forced him upon you, will not consent that you should now have this relief; and you also know that this cabal of notoriously bad citizens consider that they have a fee simple deed of your vote, as of all Democrats, whether mere partizans, or honestly friends to their country, and that they presume upon your party-attachments to secure the elevation of a man whose control of power would fasten untold miseries upon all of us. Thank God, you also know that, whatever may be your own decision, there are thousands of other Democrats whose votes are too free to be thus mortgaged by bad leaders, who, each of them, intend to feel, when that November day closes, that they have given one vote for a worthier candidate, and that candidate our next President.

Come, then, honest men of all parties, and let the People speak! Have no petty, jealous fears that your voice will be claimed as a triumph of Party! There lives not a Republican to-day, who will not welcome the hour when all political distinctions shall have faded away, under the broad folds of an old flag which is ample to cover us all.

THE XXIST DISTRICT.

The Congressional Conference Judges of the XXIst District met yesterday at Greensburg, to receive and count the official returns of the votes received by Messrs. COVODE and FOSTER. No harmony of action prevailed and the result was a division. One party forwarded to the Governor a certificate of Mr. COVODE'S election by a majority of 325; the other party did similar service for Mr. FOSTER, declaring his election by a majority of 41. Sworn evidence was produced clearly showing that no legal elections were held in Dunbar, Fayette county, and Youngstown, Westmoreland county. These two places gave Mr. FOSTER a majority of 366. However, in spite of the testimony offered the Democrats claimed Mr. FOSTER'S election, and the matter rests as we have stated. Mr. COVODE will certainly triumph in the end.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET is not likely to be changed. The whole movement has resolved itself into this: that Mr. PENDLETON washes his hands of any further responsibility for the success of such unfortunate nominations, and the tactics of the New York politicians, who wished to retain SEYMOUR and throw BLAIR overboard, in order to save their own State ticket, stand fully revealed. An absurd canard is current at New York that the World has sold out to the Republican party. There is no foundation for this, since the Republicans have no use for that sort of a journal. There might otherwise be some plausibility in the statement, since we perceive that the Pittsburgh Post still quotes the World approvingly. And everybody knows that the Post has long since declared its sincere desire for the unanimous election of General GRANT. If, however, it really be true that the World is also for GRANT, we protest, in the name of all honorable principles of warfare, against the artifice used by these two journals in pretending to fly the Democratic flag, while really having the cause of the Union at heart. Let them show their true colors; we scorn to take any unfair advantages, and especially of a foe so thoroughly whipped as the BLAIR Democracy.

WHATEVER the decision of rebels in Virginia, and the other unreconstructed States, upon Mr. JOHNSON'S ill-timed invitation to take part in the Presidential vote, no certificates of election will be granted, in any event, by Gov. WELLS or Gen. STONEMAN. The Governor now thinks that the project will be abandoned, the Virginia Democracy sharing fully in the complete demoralization brought upon by that party by the last week's elections.

BLAIR'S VERACITY.

MR. BLAIR'S repeated declarations, that the reconstruction acts have been declared by the Supreme Court to be unconstitutional, have been constantly challenged as false by the Union press. Of course, it has been everywhere understood that, when cornered by the charge of falsification, he would fall back on the Milligan decision, and claim that as his justification. All, who know precisely what that decision was, are aware that its terms do not support the charge of Mr. BLAIR, and that the latter, ignorantly or wilfully, has been guilty of a glaring perversion of the facts. The point settled by the Court in the Milligan case, which came up from the State of Indiana, held that the defendant, as a citizen of that State, could not be proceeded against by a Military Commission in the time of peace. Their decision—simply this and nothing more—and subsequently affirmed in a similar case from Missouri, falls very far short of establishing that broad and complete invalidation of the reconstruction acts, in their application to the disorganized rebel States, which Mr. BLAIR has so recklessly asserted.

A letter now appears from this gentleman, bearing date in August last, in which he distinctly cites these cases as his authority for his statement. He then proceeds:

The reconstruction acts, so called, stand on martial law, and nothing else. It is the essence of those acts. They were prepared and put in execution, in a time of profound peace, in defiance to the unanimous decision of the Supreme Court to which I have referred, and they and all that has been done under them are null and void.

Mr. BLAIR then attempts an argument to show that the McArdle case, "made up under those acts," would have been decided against them, had not Congress deprived the Court of its jurisdiction. His argument has been so often repeated in the canvass that we need not quote it here. It is as feeble, strained and inconclusive as his "facts" are notoriously without truthful foundation. His letter, although appearing to be dated in August, is quite likely to have been actually written much more recently, and for the express purpose of defending a veracity, about which his sudden tenderness of feeling surprises the American people. His assertion, that the McARDLE case would have resulted in a decision nullifying the acts in question, is flatly contradicted by the statement universally credited to Chief Justice CHASE, and which stands to-day unchallenged, that the Court would, in no event, have made such a decision. It is evident, therefore, that whether the candidate of his party, or repudiated alike by them and the people, Mr. BLAIR stands before his countrymen a convicted falsifier, and convicted out of his own mouth.

SNOWDEN'S BLANK CARTRIDGES.

Daily we hear of fresh proofs that Prothonotary SNOWDEN, still of the Supreme Court, was the main reliance of the Democratic party, for carrying the recent election. For example, read the following, from the Schuylkill Miners' Journal:

We have seen several naturalization papers in blank, with the seals of the Schuylkill County Court attached ready to fill up. Where did these papers come from? Was the Snowden game practiced in Schuylkill County also?

It is also stated that 500 blank Snowden papers were also sent to this County with the Supreme Court seal, and J. Ross Snowden's name attached. We have also seen these blank papers here.

Apropos to this business, come the significant comments of The Nation, an anti-Grant newspaper, upon the action of the Supreme Judge who exhausts his official powers in defense of his subordinate. The Nation reviews the remarkable transactions of the Court, at Philadelphia last week, when this business was under advisement, and proceeds to say:

Judge Sharswood's course in the matter is such as will cause him to be looked on with some suspicion by honorable men who have heretofore respected him. He owes his election—official investigation into the Luzerne district Congressional election proves it—to votes fraudulently cast, and it almost seems as if some of his actions had been dictated by a grateful remembrance of this fact. Charges having been made by the press and by his fellow judges that the Prothonotary of the court had illegally issued blank naturalization papers; that voters had been made by constables in the absence of judge and prothonotary; that seven hundred had been made in one day, which is at the rate of about two a minute for every minute of the working day—Judge Sharswood reluctantly ordered an examination into the Prothonotary's conduct, and the testimony fully sustained the allegations. But when he gave his decision, exonerating the Prothonotary—as may have been right—he admitted the probability of frauds; in fact, he pronounced fraudulent certain naturalization blanks that he held in his hand, and wrote the word "fraudulent" on the back of each of them; but he gave no advice as to the duty of the inspectors of elections, except that he emphatically laid down the law that the prothonotary's seal was prima facie evidence that the paper bearing it was to be accepted as genuine. Having delivered this decision, at once, before the Attorney General or anybody else could open his mouth: the Judge declared the Court adjourned sine die. This may be susceptible of explanation; but it has a very bad look, and ought to make every man in Philadelphia overhaul his opinions on the subject of elective judges—the great danger from whom, after all, is that they are tempted to bend to the will of the appointing power, if that power chooses to bring its will to bear, and that it is a thousand times more likely to bring its will to bear if it is a popular majority instead of a State Governor.

LET every honest Democratic citizen read the glowing eulogy pronounced by the Pittsburgh Post upon the character, capacity and services of General GRANT. Our cotemporary's lofty tribute was paid in its earlier and better days, before it had listened to the promptings of a narrow-minded partizanship. Those glowing words, so just and so forcibly expressed, are creditable to our neighbor's patriotism and sagacity. Nor have its rueful reproaches of yesterday against this journal altogether shaken our confidence that the editors of the Post are actuated, at least, by the same sentiments now.

WHEN MR. DANIEL TUCKER was informed that he had "spoken too late to come to supper" that famishing man and brother might have found some consolation, had he been a prophet, in foreseeing the same melancholy predicament for the Democratic revilers of SEYMOUR and BLAIR.

THE DUTY OF DEMOCRATS.

[From the Pittsburgh Post, June 27, 1867.

THE DUTY OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN A CERTAIN EVENT.

"Suppose that * * * General Grant should be nominated for the Presidency by the Republican party, what course ought the Democratic party to pursue? Ought we to nominate a man in opposition to General Grant? Ought we to charge him with being an enemy to his country, or in favor of unjust measures, merely because he may have received said nomination? * * *

We are inclined to believe that more depends upon General Grant now, than upon any other individual in the United States. We believe him to be far superior to the majority of the far-sighted politicians, who have been ruling the nation without bringing peace or economy to our legislation. He is known to all the people as A STRAIGHTFORWARD MAN, and so far as can be judged a man well disposed to deal fairly with the people of all sections of the Union. Certainly if such a man were nominated by the Democratic party, we would advocate his election in the hope that his election would conduce to the public welfare. The question is, then, if he is nominated by the Republican party, whether we shall as a party oppose his election?

* * * * * * * *

In the first place, if the people generally believe General Grant to be the man we think he is, no individual in the United States could command a corporal's guard against him—ON ANY PLEA WHATEVER. In the second place, it would be unjust and very injurious action for our Democratic leaders to attempt to place the Democratic party in a false position before the world, representing them as enemies or opponents of Gen. Grant.

* * * * * * * *

What better thing can we do in case of Gen. eral Grant's nomination by the Republican party than to VOTE FOR HIM FOR THE PRESIDENCY? Our aim should be to strengthen his hands; to render him as much as possible independent of party, and to ELECT HIM AS THE PRESIDENT OF THE PEOPLE. If unanimously, so much the better.

WE SOLEMNLY BELIEVE THAT IF THE PEOPLE GENERALLY OF THE UNITED STATES CAN COME TOGETHER WITH REAL UNANIMITY ON GENERAL GRANT, IN REGARD TO THE PRESIDENCY, IT WILL BE THE HAPPIEST THING FOR OUR COUNTRY THAT COULD POSSIBLY OCCUR. The future good effects of this course are almost incalculable. We earnestly urge our Democratic friends everywhere to consider this subject carefully."

HONEST MEN, of all parties, in Ohio are shocked by the magnitude of recent revelations of election frauds practiced in the 10th district of that State. We have already chronicled the arrest of the "Democratic gain," the Congressman elect, charged with manufacturing, as a Judge, fraudulent certificates of naturalization to secure his election. The act under which he has been arrested is as follows

SEC. 13. That if any person shall falsely make, forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be fasely made, forged or counterfeited, any certificate or evidence of citizenship referred to in this act, or shall pass, utter, or use as true any false certificate of citizenship, or shall make sale or dispose of any such certificate to any person other than the person to whom it was originally issued and to whom it may of right belong, every such person shall be deemed and adjudged guilty of felony; and on being convicted thereof by due course of law, shall be sentenced to be imprisoned and be kept at hard labor for a period not less than three nor more than five years, or be fined in a sum not less than $500, nor more than $1,000.

Our Ohio exchanges declare that "it is susceptible of proof that these bogus certificates of naturalization were signed in blank by the hundred, and sent to leading Democrats in every county in the district to be filled out by them and given to any foreigner who would vote for Dickinson." It is also stated that one thousand illegal votes were given on these papers in the county of Sandusky alone, and that the multiplying proofs are so extraordinary as to warrant the belief that these papers were scattered, not only over the district, but broadcast all over the State.

It is very satisfactory to Republicans to reflect that, although the Ohio Democracy thus seems to have imported political villainies from Pennsylvania, the people of that State are not likely to be under any obligations to us, in the way of imitating our judicial lenity for the offenders. They have no use whatever for that branch of our jurisprudence, which has just been so scandalously illustrated at Philadelphia.

THE DEMOCRACY affect to deny that BLAIR used the infamous language attributed to him in his St. Louis speech last Friday. Whatever he meant,—and those who understand the natural proclivity of his disposition to violence, can judge for themselves—the following were his precise words and in the connection in which he uttered them, St. Louis telegrams say "that this can be proved, not by scores, but by hundreds of persons who heard his language." We quote from the speech as reported in the Democrat:

"The point to which I desire to bring you is this, that in this struggle we have everything at stake; that it is the final and last struggle for the preservation of free constitutional government in America; that if we fall in it the Republic falls with us; it becomes a mere appendage of the military chieftain who is lifted to power in the name of the President, but who will never leave the Presidential mansion alive."

JOHN ALLEN, the wickedest man of New York, and the convert to religion of a fortnight, has relapsed into his sinful ways, and gone back to his den of iniquity. His conversion was thought to have been sincere, but we incline to the belief that the fellow was trifling with the good people who interested themselves in his salvation.

LEADING DEMOCRATS charge that the World has been sold out to the Republicans, because that journal dares to face the rabble and prophecy the destruction of the party favorable to the new rebellion. In the eyes of the opposition, principle has no weight in politics, but money is everything.

EVEN THE KENTUCKY Democracy talk now of an unconditional surrender. Their confidence in General GRANT is such that a caucus of their leading men is understood to have adopted at Lexington, on Saturday last, the following programme:

To counsel the withdrawal of all candidates and substituting none; to request the withdrawal of all Democratic representation from the legislative halls at Washington; to recommend that General Grant be petitioned to do away with all Southern State Governments, thereby relieving them of onerous taxes. They assume to have more confidence in Grant than their present State governments, and say they are willing to abandon all political differences and accept Grant as the military dictator for the entire people; to abolish all formality of elections in the future, throwing themselves upon the mercy and justice of one so well endorsed as Grant; whose honesty they affect to believe is unimpeachable.

There is not a shadow of doubt but that they want a dictatorship and would hail it with their heartiest approval. They will make no further party opposition, and will not countenance Northern Democratic councils. They say they will be deceived no more by them.

While this is a striking proof of the unhesitating confidence with which our great leader has inspired even his bitterest opponents, it is nevertheless an evidence that they little know the man, when they suppose him to be capable of assuming or exercising any power or authority not warranted in the Federal Constitution and Laws. Greatly as his capacities have been established by events, he is altogether incapable of becoming either a dictator or a traitor.

EVEN [redacted]ent confesses himself disgusted by the audacity of the rebel Democracy in destroying the arms belonging to the State of Arkansas, and has referred the business to Secretary SCHOFIELD for suitable action.

THE NEW REBELLION.

Reign of Terror Throughout the South—The Last Assassinations—Union Men Imploring Protection.

GALVESTON, Texas, October 11.—Intelligence has reached here to-day of the brutal murder at Jefferson, Texas, on the 5th inst., of the Hon. George W. Smith, delegate to the Austin Convention from Marion county, Northern Texas. Capt. Smith was well known to all our Republicans, and especially his fellow-members of the Constitutional Convention, as a young man of more than ordinary ability, purely Republican in sentiment and feeling, honest and zealous in his duties, and of whom it might well be said, "Behold a man, indeed, in whom there is no guile." It seems that Capt. Smith, having arrived at his home in Jefferson, Marion county, was at once marked by the rebel desperadoes therein as a proper subject for their brutal, murderous hands. The Captain was tracked, threatened, and told to leave the town. His very luggage, arriving per stage, was taken by a gang of desperadoes, and its contents were scattered and destroyed. Being a brave man, an ex-Federal officer, and an American citizen, Mr. Smith would not yield to rebels, paroled prisoners of war, whom his own stout heart had helped to subdue. He, therefore, remained, spoke to his constituents of his action in the Convention, and the work accomplished in that body. He was listened to with attention, but on starting away, he with his friends were fired upon in the streets by an armed mob of rebel ruffians. With much difficulty Captain Smith retired, fighting his way through to the headquarters of Major Curtis, U. S. A., who commanded a small detachment of troops at this point. Here, it was supposed, this brave man, with his friends, would be protected; that notwithstanding the armed mob which raged defiantly in the town, yet no outrage could occur. But these desperadoes, in part of the Quantrell gang, who have all along been atrocious, especially since the death of the lamented General Griffin, have learned to despise our Federal soldiers. They attacked Major Curtis and his guard, who were protecting Mr. Smith, and, strange to relate, Major Curtis suffered his men to be disarmed before any were killed. Captain Smith, with his friends, (freedmen,) were taken out by the fiendish mob. Mr. Smith fought to the last with a desperation born to the brave soul and ready hands of a soldier, but unavailing. His body was riddled with bullets. The freedmen were shot—murdered in the presence of the troops!

Lawlessness and crime stalk rampant throughout all the Northern and Eastern sections of this State. In their emergencies our fellow Unionists, white and black, ask vainly for redress. The military seem powerless. From some cause the present commandant does not seem equal to the situation. The fact that up to this date we have no trustworthy report of the Millican massacre of defenceless freedmen, which occurred in August last; and in which the Rebels themselves assert that between fifty and sixty blacks were killed, goes far to prove the correctness of my position in respect to our Commanding General. Republicans and good citizens, without distinction of party, all over the State, pray that the time may speedily come when law and order shall be enforced. To this end all earnestly hope for the election of General Grant and Speaker Colfax. God grant the loyal North and our reconstructed Southern States may act well their part on the third day of November next.

The Franklin (La.) Banner, a Democratic journal, dated Saturday, Oct. 10th, contains several editorial articles relating to the late massacre in St. Landry parish, from which these extracts are made:

We have just had a full account of the Opelousas riot by a gentleman of St. Landry, who is strictly truthful, and who took an active part in suppressing the outbreak. The negroes never stood but one fire before they would fly before the whites. Scouts were sent out, and where squads of armed negroes were found approaching Opelousas, they were fired on and routed. The fight continued nearly two days. One white scalawag was killed, and we believe one Democrat, and four or five Democrats wounded. Not less than 100 negroes were killed, and the number wounded is unknown. The negro leaders fled at the beginning of the fight. * * * On the second day of the fight the negroes came rushing to Opelousas for protection of the Democrats, and most of the red flannel of the town was torn into strips as badges of protection for the colored disciples of carpet-baggers.

The Governor of Arkansas telegraphs to Washington as follows:

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 17.

J. M. Schofield, Secretary of War:

The arms purchased for the State were destroyed by a band of men on the Mississippi river. The boat was captured and the arms thrown overboard. Much excitement exists here. From facts in my possession I am satisfied that armed resistance to the laws is contemplated, in which event the United States forces here would be entirely inadequate to preserve order.

POWELL CLAYTON,
Governor of Arkansas.

NEAR Lowndesville, in South Carolina, a few days ago, Mr. Peleg Bornell, a Republican, and a colored man who was with him, were most brutally murdered. When Cornell's body was found in the woods it "had been stabbed in the left breast, over the heart, with a knife, a pistol shot was in his head, his brains were running and his hands tied together. I turned to leave this sad and sickening scene, and had gone some seventy yards when I found the negro man dead and his clothes burned off. On examination it was found that eight shots were fired through his head, two in his arm and four in his back. Whether his clothes were set on fire, or caught from the discharge of the pistols, the jury could not tell. Mr. Cornell was an enterprising, energetic, industrious young man, from the State of New York. He was a firm Union man, an active supporter of the reconstruction measures of this State, and the leading Republican of Jackson county."

CHARLESTON, October 18.—B. F. Randolph, a negro preacher from the North, and a member of the South Carolina State Senate, was murdered at Cokesburg, in Albemarle county, in this State, on Friday last. He had been on an electioneering tour, and on Thursday delivered a speech at Abbeville Court House. On Friday he took the cars for Anderson, and on arriving at Cokesburg put his baggage in the ladies' car and went on the platform. Three white men then rode up, dismounted, and fired on him, wounding him mortally, and, although it was broad daylight, the murderers were not recognized and escaped.

NEW ORLEANS, October 18.—The sheriff and Parish Judge of St. Mary's parish was assassinated at Franklin, La., last night by parties who escaped without being recognized. The sheriff was killed in his hotel, and the judge's body was found in the street by the patrol, which was organized immediately after the discovery of the sheriff's assassination. The Coroner's inquest is progressing, but nothing has been elicited towards discovering the perpetrators. Several men were engaged in the transaction, who mounted on horses and escaped in the darkness.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18.—The Democrat has a special from Pine Bluff, Ark., dated yesterday, which says Wm. J. Dollar, deputy sheriff of Krew county, an old and worthy citizen, while out serving subpœnas, was tied to a negro last night, and with him were shot dead by the Ku-Klux.

GALVESTON, Texas, Oct. 17.—W. G. Kirkman, the Indian Bureau Agent, who was murdered in his office by a mob at Boston, Bowie county, was a brother of Lieutenant Kirkman, of the 17th United States Infantry.

Southern View of the Election.

The Southern newspapers at Washington, one and all, are in a state of great agony over the October elections. They all, without exception, give up the contest, and concede the election of Grant by overwhelming majorities. The Memphis Post says: "The glorious news from the North, that the Republicans have carried all the great States which voted on Tuesday, has sent a thrill of joy to every loyal heart in the South. White Radicals and colored Radicals find themselves several inches taller than ever before. Nothing could be more exhilarating than this stiff Northern breeze. But this is a mere puff to what we may now confidently expect in November.

It has had a most subduing effect upon the rebels of this city. There is a momentary lull in their threats against the Radicals.

A SLIGHT COLD, COUGH,

OR SORE THROAT may be checked if a reliable remedy is applied at once, but if neglected very soon preys upon the lungs, and the result may prove fatal. The past few weeks of changeable temperature and cold rains are fruitful sources of troubles of the lungs, throat and chest. If you are attacked by a cold, no matter how slight, use at once

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP,

Which is an old and well tried remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, and all Affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Is entirely free from any deleterious ingredient, and can be given with perfect safety to the youngest child.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Gives sure and almost immediate relief to hoarseness and that annoying sensation, tickling, in the throat. If you would obtain a reliable remedy, be sure and call for

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP.

If your Druggist does not keep it, ask him to get it for you.

COUNSEL FOR THE CARELESS.

The body is a machine, and carelessness in its management is as sure to lead to evil results as carelessness in the management of a steam engine. Yet the last thing that most people think of is the protection of this delicate piece of the Creator's handiwork from the subtle causes of disease by which it is surrounded. It is no easy thing to repair the system when in ruins; but there is no difficulty in fortifying it against many of the dangers to which it is exposed. Guard against nervous debility. At the first symptom of this fore-runner of more serious ailments, sustain the flagging energies of nature with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Take it regularly and persistently, until body vigor is thoroughly restored. It creates an appetite, promotes—or, it might as properly be said compels—the complete digestion of the food, regulates the secretive action of the liver, tones and invigorates the bowels, improves the condition of the blood, and gives firmness to the nerves. Upon a system thus strengthened and regulated in all its important functions, the fogs and exhalations of autumn, pregnant with the elements of intermittent fever can make little or no impression. Whoever supposes that fever and ague is an unavoidable evil in certain districts, at this season of the year, is egregiously mistaken. As effectually as a draught of cold air is shut out by the closing of a door, this complaint, and all disorders of a miasmatic type, may be prevented by the use of the BITTERS. When sickness can be avoided by a means so safe and simple, is it not the merest fatuity to neglect the proffered antidote? Regarded either as a preventive or a cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fever, nervous disorders, general debility, or constipation of the bowels, this pure vegetable preparation stands alone.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative to all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into decline and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable, and so most surely fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle at Dr. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood St.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

GENERAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies with suitable endorsement, should be addressed to THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

—The Chicago Republican, of Monday, says: The money market throughout the week, ending with to-night, has been characterized with a good degree of activity, and the tendency has been to increased stringency. Representatives of almost all branches of industry have been included in the list of applicants for favors, though, as usual, grain operators have been most urgent in their demands. The receipts of grain have again exceeded the shipments, so that there is in store at the present time in the neighborhood of 3,500,000 bushels. It requires a very large amount of capital to carry this produce, and now that the packing season has commenced, the demand for loans has increased, and unless the shipments of grain between now and the close of navigation are on a much larger scale than they have been during the past few weeks, fears are entertained that the money market will continue stringent throughout the winter. In most instances none but first-class names are discounted, the legitimate demand being fully equal to the supply. Rates of interest remain steady at 10 per cent. per annum.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, October 20, 1868.

The most remarkable feature we have to notice in connection with commercial affairs is that Wheat touched the lowest point it has reached in Chicago this season, yesterday, No. 2 having sold down to 131@131½. This has been a hard seoson on speculators in Wheat, as there has scarcely been a time since the new crop commenced to move, but what the margin has been against them. We heard to-day of one party who is carrying a considerable amount, which cost about $1,70, and we have no doubt that if commissions, storage and other incidental expenses were added, the net cost will now reach close on to $2. Wheat is now lower than it has been for years, and while it is possible that the bottom has at last been touched, there is no telling but what it may go still lower.

APPLE BUTTER—Is unchanged; sales at 75 to 85c, as to quality.

APPLES—In good supply and dull, but with a steady demand, prices are maintained, ranging from $2,50 to $3,50 for fair to prime, and $4 for choice.

BUTTER—Is in fair demand, but with continued liberal receipts, prices are maintained; sales of prime packed at 33 to 35c, and Roll at 37 to 40c.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is still quoted at $6 per cwt.

CHESTNUTS—Unchanged at $6,00 per bushel.

CRANBERRIES—Firm at $15 to $16, for prime cultivated.

CHEESE—Is steady with regular sales at 17c for Hamburg; 18c for Factory, and 19 to 20c for Goshen.

EGGS—A shade easier, under the influence of increased arrivals; we now quote fresh at 24 to 25c.

POTATOES—Peach Blows and Neshannocks, 85 to 90c per bushel. Sweets in rather better supply; sales of fresh receipts at $5 to $5,25 per bbl.

SEEDS—Flaxseed and Timothy Seed unchanged—the former, at $2,50 and the latter at $3 to $3,25. No established price for Clover Seed.

GRAIN—There is no movement in Wheat and prices are nominally unchanged at $1,73 to $1,75 for No. 1 Spring and $1,90 to $2 for No; 1 Winter. Oats firm but unchanged; sales on track at 66, 66½ and 67, and in store at 69 to 70. Barley is firm here notwithstanding the decline in Chicago; prime State Spring is in demand at $2,25 and Winter at $2,35. We heard of $2,40 having been offered for prime Canada Barley. Corn is quiet with sales reported at $1,14 to $1,15; sale of one car new at 97. Rye is in steady demand at $1,50 for prime, round lots.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is easier, though there is no quotable change in prices. Shoulders 13½; 16c for Ribbed, and 18 for Clear Sides; Sugar Cured Hams, 20c to 21c. Lard is quoted at 20, for prime kettle rendered.

LARD OIL—Firm but unchanged at $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

FLOUR—Is quiet and unchanged; Spring Wheat brands, $8 to $9, for fair to choice. The mills continue to quote Extra Family at $10,50 in bbls and $10 in sacks; Double Extra at $10,80 in bbls and $10,50 in sacks. Rye Flour $8,50.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, October 20, 1868.

CRUDE.

The Crude market presents but little that is really new or important worthy of special notice. The demand continues light, and seems to be restricted mainly to supplying the immediate wants of consumers, while prices are nominally unchanged. Spot, or the balance of this month, seller's option, may be fairly quoted at 11¾ to 11¾c, and we heard of one sale on private terms—understood to be at a fraction less than 11¾c. Buyers option, from now until January 1st, may be quoted at 11¾ to 12c, the last sale reported was at the inside quotation. Buyers option, all 1869, may be quoted at 15c, as we heard of an offer to buy five or ten thousand barrels at that figure. From the above, it will be seen that while there is but little doing, the market is steady, and prices are unchanged.

REFINED.

The market compared with yesterday, has undergone no important change. Early in the day there were sales of two thousand barrels for the last half of October at 29½; later in the day, however, the best offer that could be obtained for the same delivery was 29. There seems to be more disposition manifested to operate for next year than this, though as a matter of course it is altogether speculative. We can report a "line" of 500 each from January to June at 29½; and we are cognizant of offers to buy January to December at 30½, and offers to sell at 31. At this time last year, there were several "lines" of the same kind sold at about the same figures, and we understand that the same parties who sold last year, are the sellers again this year.

A LONG TOUR WESTWARD.

East of the Mississippi—Hills, Plains, Timber, Prairies—The Two Prairie Systems Divided by the Mississippi—Illinois and Kansas Contrasted—Cities of Kansas—The two Great Divisions of Kansas.

(Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

AT HOME, Oct. 17, 1868.

After an interesting excursion of over five weeks, extending from Pittsburgh to the farther end of Kansas, which is nearly seven hundred miles west of the Mississippi, I propose to give to the readers of the GAZETTE, a resume of my observations, especially in the regions beyond the Missouri. I made it my headquarters while in the State, returning after frequent excursions to my hotel, the Durfee House, as to a pleasant home. Mr. Skinner, the proprietor, wins the hearts of his guests by his quiet, unaffected urbanity, and secures their comfort and peace by the exclusion of all intoxicating beverages from his premises. His is a favorite house, although there are several other good hotels in the city.

I have already made this letter long enough, and yet I have not reached the two subjects of which I wished more particularly to speak—the Railroads and the Plains. What I have said of Kansas applies to the eastern half of the State, comprising about forty thousand square miles. The western part, embracing about an equal area, is so peculiar, so dissimilar from that already spoken of, that I shall reserve it for another letter. Perhaps I can convey to the minds of readers who have never been "out of the woods" some idea of that stupendous, treeless, solitude, that ocean of grass, over which savages, buffaloes, antelopes and wolves wander at will. C.

EAST OF THE MISSISSIPPI.

The eastern part of the State of Ohio, resembles, in its general aspect, the western counties of Pennsylvania, although it is less hilly, and has a larger per centage of good agricultural land. Its hills, like ours, are well stored with coal and iron ore, and the towns are generally growing, flourishing, prosperous places. From the centre of the State westward, and on through Indiana to the eastern border of the great prairie region, the land is for the most part level, and where it is yet in a state of nature, is covered with a heavy growth of tall, straight timber. The soil is deep and rich, but being too level to shed water rapidly, crops often suffer from excess of moisture, and roads become extremely muddy.

Through Indiana the traveler sometimes passes over mile after mile of unbroken forest. This part of our country is not filling up rapidly; for it requires the labor of a generation to subdue it and render it easily tillable. Time was when such timbered land was preferred; but railroads have changed all that. Men now prefer the open prairie; for they find it more profitable to bring all the materials for their buildings and fences from the distant forests of Wisconsin, Michigan and Canada, than to struggle for the better part of a life time with logs, and stumps, and roots. Hence it is that the great prairie State of Illinois has, within a few years, made such enormous strides in population and wealth.

But Illinois has its drawbacks. Much of it is too level and is difficult to drain, while some of it is swampy. Were there more sand in the soil it would be better. At intervals more or less distant, ridges or swells of gravelly drift are found. On these we find the finest orchards and the most beautiful farms. These swells generally run from north-west to south-east both in Indiana and Illinois.

WEST OF THE MISSISSIPPI.

In passing down the Mississippi a close observer will see that that river, for hundreds of miles, has a more elevated region on its western than on its eastern bank—that it divides between two great, distinct and strongly dissimilar prairie systems. That on the east is lower, leveller, less sandy, and muddier than that on the west. South of the mouth of the Missouri river, and extending down almost to the Arkansas line, the country is rugged, almost mountainous, and heavily timbered across a belt extending from fifty to one hundred miles west of the river. There the magnificent prairie region of Central and Western Missouri and Kansas commences.

KANSAS.

Except in the single fact that both are prairie States there is but little resemblance between Illinois and Kansas. The one is to a great extent level and monotonous; the other is a series of picturesque and ever-varying undulations. The one is grand, like the ocean in a dead calm; the other looks like the ocean heaving in grand long swells, with occasional knolls or peaks which are like islands dotting its vast expanse. The one is muddy at some seasons; the other is probably the cleanest State yet settled—there is no mud in the roads at any season except at the margins of small streams, and wagons cut no ruts. Both are fertile; the soil of both is black, or very dark colored, and deep—that of Kansas, on the average, the deepest. Illinois has some swamp land; Kansas has none—at least I saw none. The farmers of Illinois find their market in the East; those of Kansas do now, and probably will for all time to come, find their best market in the West, in the great pastural and mineral regions beyond them.

In Illinois there are many farms of immense extent, where one man is "monarch of all he surveys," although his horizon may extend to miles, and his rows of corn be an hour's walk in length. This is not good, for it will lead in some degree to a landed aristocracy, and prevent that thorough tillage, that density of population, and that social equality, which are found in a community of small proprietors. In Kansas, on the other hand, the prevailing inclination seems to be to make small farms. I paid some attention to this thing, and made inquiry of land agents and others in respect to it. I found that in the more thickly settled sections more eighty acre lots were sold than those of one hundred and sixty. Many men of limited means wisely content themselves with forty acres, knowing that with that much of such land, well cultivated, a man is sure of a good living. One day, while sitting in the office of a land agent, two colored men came in and handed him eight parcels done up in paper, each of which contained just fifty dollars. My curiosity was excited, and after they had finished their business and gone out, I asked him what those separate parcels meant. He told me that eight colored men, heads of families, had combined to purchase one quarter section, which would give to each man a lot of twenty acres. Their object was to form a little community and have a school among themselves.

The school system of Kansas is very good and well endowed, two sections of land in each township having been set apart by an act of Congress for the support of common schools within the township. Seminaries of learning of higher grade are quite numerous. Among these are the University of Kansas, at Lawrence, the Principal of which is our distinguished fellow citizen, General John Fraser, formerly of the Agricultural College of Pennsylvania; the State Agricultural College, at Manhattan, a flourishing institution, and the State Normal School, at Emporia. All these are well endowed in lands. There are many other colleges under the different religious denominations. In the brief space I have allotted to myself, I can only give to this subject a brief mention.

The principal cities are Leavenworth and Lawrence, the former of which has a population of about 30,000, the latter 12,000. But Kansas City, on the Missouri, at the mouth of the Kansas river, and on the very border of the State, although in Missouri, may be classed as a Kansas city. It is growing with amazing rapidity and bids fair to be a large and wealthly commercial metropolis. The Missouri Pacific Railroad terminates there, and there the Union Pacific Railway, E. D., begins. Besides these, a bridge over the Missouri, now nearly completed, will connect it with two other railroads on the east side of the Missouri, one of which will give it a direct connection with Chicago, and all the roads which centre there and at Quincy; the other will give it a second route to St. Louis. But I cannot stop to speak more particularly of railroads now.

Leavenworth finds in Kansas City a formidable competitor for the commercial supremacy of that wide and magnificent field; and if, within a short time, it can throw a bridge across the Missouri, it may yet maintain the supremacy; otherwise it cannot.

Lawrence, as a city, is the gem of Kansas, whether viewed in the beauty of its location, its fine buildings, or the intelligence, refinement and good morals of its people. I made it my headquarters while in the State, returning after frequent excursions to my hotel, the Durfee House, as to a pleasant home. Mr. Skinner, the proprietor, wins the hearts of his guests by his quiet, unaffected urbanity, and secures their comfort and peace by the exclusion of all intoxicating beverages from his premises. His is a favorite house, although there are several other good hotels in the city.

I have already made this letter long enough, and yet I have not reached the two subjects of which I wished more particularly to speak—the Railroads and the Plains. What I have said of Kansas applies to the eastern half of the State, comprising about forty thousand square miles. The western part, embracing about an equal area, is so peculiar, so dissimilar from that already spoken of, that I shall reserve it for another letter. Perhaps I can convey to the minds of readers who have never been "out of the woods" some idea of that stupendous, treeless, solitude, that ocean of grass, over which savages, buffaloes, antelopes and wolves wander at will. C.

Petroleum Items.

A few days ago a new well was struck on Lease No. 14, of the Benninghoff Farm, and on Saturday last it was producing at the rate of about thirty barrels per day. It is principally owned by Mr. J. W. Jenkins, of Pioneer. Last week a one-fourth working interest in this well was sold by Mr. John Eckert for $1,200.

Eighty acres of territory situated on Charley Run, near Oil City, was purchased by Mr. W. T. Baum, a well known operator in the Scrubgrass district, a week or two ago, for $8,000.

A new well is to be put down near the railroad track at Shaffer, by Messrs. Magin, Knapp and R. H. Boughton.

This time last year the price of crude along the creek ranged from $3.70 to $3.75, at Pittsburgh from 13½ to 14c, and at New York from 15 to 15½c.

A new twenty barrel well was recently struck at Parker's landing, on the Allegheny river. The total production at this point is now one hundred barrels per day.

The shipments of crude to New York so far this month have been exceedingly light. The New York Central tank line has done little or nothing, and the greater portion of the Erie line has been side tracked. This state of affairs has been mainly occasioned by the arrangement made by the Central, Erie and Empire Line Companies in regard to freights.

The improvements are a fine two-story brick house, with ten large rooms and hall. A large frame bank barn, with No. 1 stabling, and all other outbuildings in complete order. One of the best of orchards, of all kinds of fruit. The soil is rich new bottom. This property adjoins the village of Buena Vista, and has the advantage of churches, schools, mills, stores, &c., and will be sold at the low price of $15,000. The improvements alone are worth at least all that is asked for the property, to say nothing about the land, which is worth for garden purposes at least $10,000. For full particulars call at my office, or WILLIAM A. BELL, Esq., on the premises.

ALSO, A FARM OF 40 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Connellsville Railroad, about 18 miles from the city. Also, a large frame bank barn, smoke house, wash house, coal house, bake-oven and other outbuildings, and a never-failing well of water. Two large orchards, containing from six to seven hundred fruit trees, nearly all in good bearing condition. This farm abounds in small fruits, viz: Currants, raspberries, gooseberries, and a fine large strawberry patch, which, in connexion with the richness of the soil and nearness to the city, makes it very desirable for gardening purposes. Very convenient to schools, churches, stores and blacksmith shop.

ALSO, A FARM OF 158 ACRES, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., 31 miles from the city of Pittsburgh, on the Connellsville Railroad, at Suter Station. The improvements are a common log house, a good frame barn, with stabling for ten horses; a corn crib and wagon shed; good orchard of fruit trees; fencing very good. 120 acres cleared, the residue in heavy timber land. This tract is well adapted for a garden or dairy farm, being convenient and of easy access to either city, and near enough to the line of the Mahoning Railroad to make it very desirable for country seats, for persons doing business in the city.

ALSO, The best farm in Young township, Indiana county, Pa., 4 miles from Western Penna. R. R. at Livermore Station, containing 300 ACRES—225 acres cleared and under No. 1 fencing, as well as the farming condition; the balance in good white oak timber. The improvements are 2 two-story frame houses, nearly new, of eight rooms each and finished basements and attics; a large bank barn 50 by 80 feet, a two-story spring house and other necessary outbuildings, all in good order; 5 acres of orchard of choice varieties of fruits; 4 feet vein of coal now open, underlying the whole tract, and limestone in abundance, with plenty of springs of never-failing water. Taken all together—houses, fencing, soil, nice lying surface, public highway, churches, schools, mills, &c.,—I know of no more inviting and desirable tract of land in Western Pennsylvania.

ALSO, FARM AND MILLS. A small tract of 60 ACRES of very valuable land in Derry township, Westmoreland county, Pa.; well fenced and in a high state of cultivation, with new frame dwelling, and other outbuildings; a new grist and saw mill complete, with two run of burrs, two bolting cloths, and all the needed fixtures, in good order, and a young orchard of choice fruits; lane is all under and with a six foot vein of coal, now opened and worked, at the back of the mill, and limestone in abundance. Call soon and secure a good bargain.

Committed.—Peter Saal was committed yesterday by S. C. McCandless, clerk of the United States District Court, for carrying on the business of retail liquor dealer without paying special tax.

Recaptured.—King and Anderson, the two horse thieves who escaped from the Greensburg jail during the excitement of election day, have been recaptured and lodged in their old quarters.

Affiliation.—Mary A. Jackson made information yesterday, before Alderman Donaldson, against Abraham Hernon for fornication and bastardy. The accused was arrested and committed in default of $500 for Court.

Personal.—Thomas A. Scott, Esq., of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, with a number of subordinate officials, is in town.

Capt. W. B. Donaldson, of the steamer "Great Republic," is at present visiting his friends in this city.

Grant Hussars.—A full attendance of the members of the Grant Hussars is requested by Captain Dunseath, at the meeting this evening in City Hall, at half-past seven o'clock. The meeting is called to make arrangements for participating in the torch-light parade to-morrow evening, and it is important that every member should be present.

Alleged False Pretense.—Conard Wagoner made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against John Swanzig for false pretense. Wagoner alleges that Swanzig obtained from John O'Neill forty dollars, by representing that he had twice that amount due him from Dr. Reiter, which was not the case. A warrant was issued.

False Pretense.—Henry Smith, a clothier, on Wylie street, made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging J. M. Stevenson with obtaining money under false pretense. He alleges that the accused by false representations, obtained $35 from him. Stevenson was in jail awaiting trial on a charge of larceny. He will have a hearing to-day.

Will Turn Out.—The National Guards will turn out on Thursday evening for the torchlight procession. All members of the company are earnestly requested to be on hand. They will form on the corner of Pitt and Liberty streets, at 6½ o'clock, sharp. Any information required can be obtained from Capt. Alex. McCallum, No. 51 Fifth avenue.

Punshon's Lectures.—A vast audience will doubtless greet the first and only appearance of this prince of living orators in our midst. Mr. Punshon like Newman Hall and Spurgeon has a world-wide reputation, and it is seldom the privilege of our citizens to enjoy the treat that is in store for them on this and to-morrow evening. Seats can still be secured at the Advocate office, Singerly's building, Third Avenue near Market.

Death of a Pittsburgher.—We regret to learn of the death of Mr. David Hunter, formerly a resident of this city, but recently of New York, who died at his residence in that city on Friday of last week. Mr. H. was an extensive drug dealer in this city, and was well known to many of our business men. Several years previous to his death he removed to New York, where he again engaged in the drug business, and continued it with success. He was buried on Saturday with Masonic honors.

Second Ward Grant Club.—A meeting of the Second Ward Grant Club was held at Wilkins Hall last evening.

The Committee of Arrangements announced that the Pioneer Club had made preparations to surpass all her previous efforts on Thursday evening.

A band has been engaged for the occasion.

All members not being able to turn out are requested to return their uniforms to the Hall.

Coat Recovered.—On Monday evening, a young man walking on crutches, who gave his name as Wm. Green, made information before the Mayor, charging Henry Godfrey with defrauding him out of a coat. The accused was arrested and taken before the Mayor, who, after hearing the case, dismissed Godfrey. Subsequently the officers recovered a coat which had been pawned by Green, and which is alleged to have been stolen from Henry G. Hale, at Penn and Sixth streets. Diligent search was made for Green, but without success.

Whose Is It?—There is at the Allegheny Mayor's office a trunk which was picked up by officers Campbell and Gabby, while passing along East lane, near the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, yesterday morning. The trunk was found lying on the sidewalk, and had evidently been forced open, as the hasps which held the lid had been broken off. It contained two coats, but had been emptied of everything else. It is evidently the property of an emigrant, as a Castle Garden check was pasted on the side. There is no clue to the owner, and it remains at the office for identification.

Slight Fire.—The alarm of fire from Box 13, about half-past eight o'clock last night, was occasioned by a slight fire in the establishment of B. A. Fahnestock & Co., No. 167 First Avenue. The building is used as a ware-room, and it appears that some of the employees had been in the cellar during the day, lighted the gas and left it burning. The burner being in close proximity to one of the joists, it took fire and burned a hole through the first floor. The fire department responded promptly to the call, and soon extinguished the flames. The damage done by the fire was very slight, but the goods were considerably damaged by the deluge of water thrown into the room.

Alleged Embezzlement.

Joseph McCann made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against Charles H. McGraw for embezzlement. McCann and McGraw were engaged in the roofing business as partners. McCann alleges that about three months since he went to New Castle to attend to some business, and that during his absence McGraw sold all the stock, negotiated all the notes, drew all the money in bank belonging to the firm, and shipped for California. He returned a few days since, and was arrested yesterday. He gave bail in the sum of $1,000 for a hearing on Friday at 3 P. M. The total amount alleged to be embezzled is not definitely known, but is estimated in the neighborhood of $1,000.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court.

[Before Judge McCandless.]

Court met at ten o'clock yesterday morning, when the following business was transacted:

On motion of O. B. Richmond, Esq., C. R. Marsh, H. L. Richmond, Jr., and F. P. Ray, of Meadville, and on motion of A. Blackley, Esq., H. L. Richmond, Sr., of Meadville, were severally qualified and admitted to practice at the bar of this Court.

The lists of Grand and Traverse jurors were called. A quorum of the former having answered, Hon. Frederick E. Smith, of Tioga county, was designated by the Court as foreman. The Grand Jurors were then sworn, after which the Court delivered the charge and they retired.

Some days since A. M. Brown, Esq., filed a petition of A. Ballou, asking for a remission of penalties, forfeitures, etc., resulting from the alleged illicit distilling at his vinegar manufactory, on Second street. The argument was heard at the time of filing the petition, and this morning Judge McCandless delivered the decision of the Court refusing the application on the ground that it did not come within the intent and meaning of the act of Congress of the 3d of March, 1797.

In the bankruptcy branch, petitions for final discharge were filed by Daniel J. Carey, of Montour county, and Isaac Getter, of Columbia. The usual order was made.

On petition filed, an order was issued for the examination of Christopher Smathers, bankrupt before Register S. E. Woodruff, on the 20th inst.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

[Before Judge Mellon.]

Court met at the usual hour, yesterday morning, Judge Mellon on the bench.

W. T. Haines, Esq., presented a petition signed by twenty qualified voters, of the Twenty-third ward, complaining of a false return of the election of William Alexander and Samuel Thompson as School Directors, of the School District of said ward, for the term of three years, William Cowan and Frank Kohne for two years, August Hollidt and Joshua Uqline for one year, and alleging that E. B. Robinson and Wm. Cowan had been elected for three years, E. N. Palmer, Jr., and Joseph Chadwick for two years, and G. H. Anderson and William Wylie for one year. The petition sets forth that the votes were fraudulently counted, and asks that the same be examined according to law.

The Court appointed Saturday, November 7th, for hearing said complaint, and directed the usual notice to be given.

FEROCIOUS DOG CASES.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Margaret J. Douglas, indicted for keeping a ferocious dog, Michael Eagan prosecutor, was then taken up. The defendant resides in Virgin Alley, and it is alleged keeps a ferocious dog, which, on or about the seventh of September, bit the prosecutors boy while he was playing along the alley. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. Motion for new trial by the defendants counsel.

The next case taken up was Commonwealth vs. William Kennedy, indicted for keeping a ferocious dog, John Laughlin prosecutor. The parties reside near Oakland, and the prosecutor alleges that the defendant keeps a ferocious dog which bit him on or about September fourth. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty," and directed that the costs be divided equally between the prosecutor and defendant.

Court then adjourned until nine o'clock this morning.

Court of Common Pleas.

[Before Judge Stowe.]

The Common Pleas Court met at ten o'clock yesterday, Judge Stowe on the bench.

Bill Ignored.

Some time in the month of May last, Malachi Powell made information against Alderman Baillie, of the First ward, Allegheny, for misdemeanor in office. Powell alleged that the official had issued two executions against him for one bill, and had collected the amount due on the same. The accused waived a hearing and the matter was taken to Court. Yesterday the case came before the Grand Jury, when it appeared that the executions were issued on separate bills, and accordingly the Grand Jury dismissed the charge against the Alderman, the prosecuter paying the costs. Alderman Baillie is one of the most honorable and careful magistrates in either city, and we are glad to chronicle the action of the Grand Jury, which completely relieves him of all suspicion of dishonor or official corruption which, however, would only have received credit against him by those with whom he is unacquainted.

The Field and Company officers of the First Regiment of Grant and Tanner Clubs are requested to meet at City Hall this (Wednesday) evening, at eight o'clock.

W. B. COOK, Comd'g Regiment.

In Search of a Mother.

Yesterday evening John Warner, a little boy about nine or ten years of age, was brought to the Mayor's office by Mrs. Clark, a kind and benevolent lady residing at 452 Penn street, to make inquiry concerning the whereabouts of his mother. He is a very bright, intelligent boy, and tells his history in a plain, straight-forward manner, which not only impressed his auditors favorably, but at the same time carried a conviction of truthfulness with it. He states that his father and mother resided at York Haven, York county, and that his father enlisted in the army. After he had been absent some time his mother, hearing that her husband was dead, married again, but he is unable to tell the name of the man to whom she was married. Shortly after the marriage they came to this city to live, leaving him with some friends. A few months ago the husband returned to York Haven and went to work on the canal, and put Johnny to work also, making him drive mules on the towpath. Not relishing this business, he resolved to find his mother, and about two weeks since left York Haven, and came to this city by the Pennsylvania Railroad, and while searching for his mother fortunately came across Mrs. Clark, whose kind motherly heart was aroused in sympathy for the poor boy, and she took charge of him, taking him to her home, where he has remained ever since. This morning, as stated, she applied to the Mayor for assistance in searching for the mother who had so cruelly forsaken her child. The Mayor directed her to take the little fellow home with her and he would do all in his power to aid in the search. He telegraphed to York Haven yesterday for information relative to the affair, but has as yet received no reply.

Strange Friendship.

Joseph Lofink is a friendly man, but sometimes has a strange way of manifesting that pleasing trait in his character. Frank Metz relates an instance in point. He alleges that he invited Lofink to take a drink with him. The invitation was accepted, and followed by an adjournment into a saloon close by. After they had partaken of the cup which cheers and—well, sometimes inebriates, Lofink, it is said, playfully struck his companion a stunning blow with his fist, accompanying it with an imprecation, and following it up with a vigorous kick, which completely settled his kind friend. Upon recovery Metz desired an explanation, and was assured that it was only a joke. He failed, however, to appreciate the joke exactly, and was made somewhat more obtuse by a sore head and an aching side, which cried aloud for vengeance. Alderman McMasters issued a warrant for the arrest of Lofink on a charge of assault and battery.

For Salt River.

The friends of Mr. John Heyl hearing that he was about to take his departure for the saline regions, and having themselves spent several bleak winters in that locality, by voluntary contribution laid in a stock of commissary stores sufficient for the coming winter, and last evening the contributors met at the residence of Mr. H., each bringing with him his donation to the stock. We will not attempt an enumeration of the articles. Suffice it to say, however, that they included everything usually found in a Democratic store ship. After the party had all assembled, a meeting was organized by calling Samuel Pollock, Esq., to the Chair, after which appropriate addresses were made by Messrs. Whiteman, Pearson, Hunker, Torley, and others, relative to the departure of Mr. Heyl. The affair was kept up until a late hour at night and general good feeling prevailed.

Saved from Drowning.

Charles Martin, a little son of Reuben Martin, of Allegheny, narrowly escaped drowning yesterday morning. He was playing with several companions on some rafts moored at the foot of Herr's Island, Allegheny river, when by a misstep he was plunged into the water, directly above a raft under which he floated. Mr. Julius Cramer, who happened to be passing at the time, noticed the circumstance and went immediately to the rescue. Reaching the raft under which the boy had floated, he passed his arm down between the logs and grasped hold of him. Retaining his grasp until the lad had floated clear of the logs he lifted him from the water and bore him to the shore. Consciousness returned after a time and the companions of the little fellow then conducted him home. Mr. Cramer deserves credit for his promptitude and exertions, which were so fortunate in rescuing one from a watery grave.

Cow Stealing.

About two o'clock yesterday morning, Lieutenant Campbell and officer Quirk of the Allegheny night police were passing up West street, in the Third ward, when they noticed a young man driving a cow along the street. Having a suspicion that all was not right, they arrested the man, who gave his name as Thomas McCleary, and lodged him in the lock-up. The cow was taken to a stable in the vicinity of the Mayor's office. About eight o'clock in the morning Mrs. Toner, residing on Cedar avenue, called at the Mayors office and stated that a cow, the most valuable among five which she owned, had been stolen from the stables the evening before. She at once indentified the animal locked up, as her property, and made information for larceny against McCleary. After a hearing, the accused was committed to jail in default of five hundred dollars bail, for a hearing.

Assaulting an Officer.

Officer Chess, of Alderman Lindsay's police, made information yesterday against James O'Connor, of the Fifth ward, Allegheny, for assaulting him while in the discharge of his duty. The officer states that a warrant for the arrest of O'Connor's son, charged with malicious mischief, was placed in his hands, and that he went to the boy's residence for the purpose of arresting him. In attempting to make the arrest he was set upon by the father of the boy, but notwithstanding this opposition, he would have succeeded had it not been for the interference of Mrs. O'Connor, who struck him on the head with a shovel, inflicting a severe though not dangerous wound. A warrant was issued.

Serious Accident.

On Monday afternoon a young man, accompanied by a lady friend, was riding along the Perrysville road, near the head of Federal street, when the horse attached to the vehicle shied across the road. The wheels on one side of the buggy went into a rut and tilted it, upsetting the occupants. The young man was severely injured by his head coming in contact with a stone, which inflicted a long and pretty deep gash just above the temple. He was brought into the city to his residence on Federal street, where his injuries received proper medical attention. The young lady fortunately escaped without injury.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Another large and fashionable audience assembled at the Opera House last night to see Mr. Owens in the role of "John Unit," in "Self." As a comedian, Mr. Owens stands unrivaled and in this piece he is unapproachable. "Self" will be repeated this evening, after which there will be a change of programme.

FRANKLIN HALL.—The museum at Franklin Hall continues to attract large crowds of persons during the day and evening. There are many truly wonderful sights to be seen there, and it is a very pleasant and profitable place to spend an evening.

WINTER.

"Whiter than the mountain sleet
Ere from the cloud that gave it breath,
It fell, and caught one stain of earth."
—Byron.

The first snow of the season fell in this neighborhood on Saturday last, and should convince all of the near and rapid approach of Winter with its ever attendant frosty mornings, and chilling winds. Those who care for health or have any regard for personal comfort will act wisely in preparing themselves for its approach. Perhaps, the first article of ladies' apparel which will suggest itself to the reader is the stylish muff, the handsome victorine or elegant bade, for nothing is more productive of health and comfort or richer than furs. The Bade, which was so fashionable some twenty-five years ago is likely to have quite a run this season, but will be of much superior style than heretofore. It will generally be made of the finest Hudson Bay, Mink, Sable and the finer grades of Siberian Squirrel and Water Mink. The Eugenia, with or without tabs, will prove very popular this season, as nothing is more rich or dressy, especially when worn on those fashionable and elegant silk velvet mantles which will again be all in vogue this Winter. There are several patent styles of new muffs, just introduced, among which the most desirable is "Gay's Patent Excelsior," which commends itself to the wearer for its beauty, comfort and durability. It is lined around the wrists with fur, thus affording all the comfort of muffetees without the extra expense. While the ladies' wants in this line will be amply provided for, the gentlemen will be looking around for articles in the way of fur caps and collars. The inventive genius of the country has not been unmindful of the comfort and convenience of the stronger sex, for it has supplied several patent articles in the fur line; one, a patent collar for the protection of the ears and neck is very useful as well as ornamental; and another patent cuffs for the wrist. These admirably answer the purposes for which intended, and are within the reach of all. We might go on speaking of the new styles and novelties of furs which appear at such well managed and representative emporiums of the trade as William Fleming's, No. 139 Wood street. Taking the lead in the business, carrying the best and largest stock, and selling wholesale and retail at from fifteen to twenty-five per cent. less than any other rival house in the city, it is no marvellous thing that this establishment monopolizes nearly the entire fur trade of these parts. The stock now held by Mr. Fleming is the very finest and most complete ever offered in the city, and his prices are as reasonable as they were anterior to the war. It is a pleasure to show goods, and in case of purchase, satisfaction in all cases is guaranteed. Remember the house, William Fleming, 139 Wood street, sign of the great golden hat.

Complimentary.

The Cleveland Herald of Monday, contains the following complimentary notice of the Pittsburgh Turners, who have been giving a series of exhibitions in that city:

The gymnastic exercises were of the highest order, and would have done credit to any company of professionals in the country. The perfection to which these gentlemen approached in their physical development, is something wonderful. The following are the names of the parties from Pittsburgh: C. Conrad, teacher; F. Dierst, Christian Hauch, A. Grabenstein, W. Muhlstein, W. A. Muhlstein, R. Metz, J. Leutze, Oscar Pieckel and little Henry Conrad. They were assisted in their performances by Mr. F. Buechner, formerly of Pittsburgh, but now teacher of the Turners in this city. Everything they attempted was done with grace and success. We wish to speak particularly of the exercises on the horizontal bar, the tumbling and the double bar, by the company, and especially the double trapeze act by Mr. Hauch and Mr. Buechner. For daring, it was equal to anything we have ever seen. The contortion act by Mr. Hauch, and the club swinging were also first class. The singing by the Gesangverein was very good, particularly the last piece, "The Picture of the Rose," which received an encore. The Germania Orchestra furnished the music under the direction of Prof. Von Olker. Of course, it was good. On Tuesday evening the Pittsburgh Turners will give an exhibition in Akron. We can commend their entertainment to our readers in that city.

Meeting at New Texas—Loyal Republicans of Plum Township Moving on the Enemy's Works.

A large and most enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of Plum township, and vicinity, was held at New Texas, Monday evening, the 19th inst. The Grant and Colfax Club of that township—numbering over one hundred voters—was out on parade, with lamps well trimmed and full of oil, and the citizens of the village had their houses beautifully illuminated and decorated. The spirit manifested indicated clearly that the Republicans of that neighborhood intend to press the retreating Democracy into an unconditional surrender.

The meeting was ably and eloquently addressed by H. C. Mackrell, C. H. Robb and H. H. McCormick, Esqs., after which it adjourned by giving three deafening cheers for Grant and Colfax.

Friends of the Union and Liberty, fall in and close up the lines.

Business Change.

The old and extensive glass manufacturing establishment of Messrs. John Best & Co., has undergone a change of proprietorship. The new firm will continue with Mr. Best as senior, with Messrs. George Thompson, John Maclean and Thomas A. Best, as partners, under the name and style of Best, Thompson & Co. Few factories in our neighborhood enjoy such high reputation as this staunch and reliable one, whose manufactures have ever been regarded as amongst the most superior of the country. Mr. Best, after years of experiment, has succeeded in bringing the Dolamite flint glass to perfection, and the new firm will engage largely in its manufacture. It is white as snow and as rich and elegant as the finest of porcelain, and altogether is a most superior article, commending itself on its own merits to the trade. We wish the new firm abundant success and bespeak an increase of the generous patronage hitherto awarded the old one.

Stained Glass.

The plainest church building is improved by the introduction of stained, enameled or ground glass. Parties interested in church buildings can obtain every variety of stained glass, with plain or elaborate designs, in from eight to twelve days, by ordering directly from Page, Zellers & Duff, No. 8 Wood street, Pittsburgh, Pa., who combine the business of glass staining with glass manufacture. The article made by this firm will bear the most critical inspection, is durable, and sold at reasonable rates. 6t

The Same Game Everywhere.

The Cleveland Herald says: A Democratic fraud has just come to light which may afford an explanation for the large Democratic gains in Fremont, Sandusky County. It seems that the Court of Probate of that County has been issuing fraudulent naturalization papers and furnishing them to voters to any amount. It is impossible to know how many of these forged naturalization papers have been used, but they made their appearance at the polls in this city, and were presented by men who admitted they themselves have not been out of the city in seven years, that they have taken no oath, and that all they know about it is, they paid their money for papers to vote on.

The Probate Judge of Sandusky County—Dickinson—was the man who beat Gibson for Congress in that district, but it is due to Judge D. to state that it is not supposed he was knowing of this fraud which, it is supposed, was perpetrated by some Deputy of his who has been making a business of forging blank papers and furnishing them to Democrats at so much a quire.

BISMARCK, the energetic Minister of Prussia, is accused by the French papers of having fomented the revolution in Spain. The funds at the disposal of the insurgent Generals, it is stated, were advanced by Prussia, who raised the means in London and Cadiz, from the securities transferred about a year ago, by Italy, in payment for needle-guns. The proceeds of this latter transaction in the money market enabled Marshal Serrano to settle the claims of the troops, whose pay had long been in arrear, and thus to enlist the sympathy of the Spanish army in the insurrection. King William, of Prussia, is gaining the reputation of a crafty disturber of the nations of Europe, while he is carrying out his plans for the enlargement of his own domains.

THE Irish organ, the Irish Republic, says: "How, in God's name, did our people join in the slave party, among whom they could not exist, and oppose the party of freedom in the North, among whom they lived and prospered? This we leave for themselves to answer if they can. We beg to assure them, however, that breaking up Republican meetings, firing into processions composed of wounded soldiers, and making 'night hideous' with their howls, in Copperhead mobs, are but melancholy returns to the great American people among whom they live."

Why Democrats Should Vote for Grant.

No Union Democrat can consistently refuse to vote for Grant, nor consent to vote for Seymour. The former, like the latter, has always been a Democrat, but while Seymour belongs to the Calhoun-State-Sovereignty-Secession wing of the party, Grant belongs to the Union-loving, law-abiding wing. When the war broke out, it necessarily destroyed the old Democratic and Whig parties—the State Sovereignty disunionists united to form what is now called the Democratic party, and the State Rights Unionists combining to form the Republican party, which carried through the war, preserved the Union, saved the life of the Nation and has labored assiduously to restore harmony on a basis of future stability and safety. While the Democracy (Democratic only in name) are struggling to restore to power the enemies of our National Union and the friends of State Sovereignty and anarchy, the Republicans (who represent all that is real in Democracy) are using their best efforts to permanently restore the prestige and glory of the Union established by our fore-fathers on the basis of National Sovereignty and State Rights.

The Republican party and its great captain, Grant, stand to-day precisely where Washington, Hamilton, Knox and other patriots stood before the foundation of the Democratic party, and where Madison, Jackson, Benton and other prominent Democrats subsequently stood. So that it is no violation of principles nor an inconsistent act for a Union Democrat, holding views in common with the best men of the old Democratic party, to vote for General Grant.—Utica Herald.

How Seymour Received the News.

The Utica Herald is informed that Mr. Seymour, who oftentimes rides through Genesee street to his headquarters in the Butterfield House in that city, on Wednesday morning went on foot through the more retired streets of the city and quietly entered his hotel. He carried a carpet-bag in his hand. In response to a remark from a brother Democrat, to the effect that the Radicals had probably achieved a sweeping victory, Mr. Seymour said:

"Well, sir, the Democracy can not hold me responsible. I persistently and repeatedly declined the nomination."

Doubtless the unpopularity of Mr. Seymour furnishes an unpleasant awakening even to himself. The late elections have taught him and his party that patriotism and honest, outspoken sentiments are better in the game of winning votes than covert sympathy with rebellion, and smooth, un meaning sentences.

IN ANDOVER Theological Seminary are students from all the northeastern States except Rhode Island; from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania; Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Canada, the island of Ceylon, and the Hawaiian Islands, and every man is for Grant and Colfax. What a set of infidels these Republicans are?
